Copyright, 1921, by R. L. Polk & Co

INTRODUCTION

The 1921 edition of R. L. Polk & Co.'s Fort Myers City Directory is here with presented, with the assurance of the publishers that its contents are practically complete in every feature that serves to make a first-class work of its kind. The unrivalled facilities of the publishers and their many years of experience in directory making have been utilized, and the same care exercised in the production of the volume as in the making of their larger metropolitan directories.

The Directory is arranged by Departments as follows:

THE BUYERS' GUIDE, pages 13 to 24, is a new feature in this Directory. It contains the advertisements of prominent and progressive business men and concerns printed on tinted paper and arranged alphabetically by Departments according to the nature of the business.

THE MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENT, pages 25 to 31, include data concerning city and county officials, banks, cemeteries, churches, courts, hospitals, libraries, societies, newspapers, public buildings, halls, postoffice data, secret and benevolent societies and information covering every phase of industry and activity in the territory covered by the Directory.

THE STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE is included in pages 33 to 52.

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of citizens, business firms and corporations is embraced in pages 53 to 141.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY is embraced in pages 143 to 172 and shows the various manufacturing, mercantile and professional occupations compiled under headings appropriate to the class of business pursued.

FORT MYERS

The Gate City of the Tropics.

Fort Myers, The Gate City of the Tropics, is the judicial seat of Lee county and is situated on the southern bank of the beautful Caloosahatchee river, fifteen miles from the Gulf of Mexico. It is 311 miles southwest of Jacksonville, 147 miles south of Tampa, and is 400 miles further south than San Diego, California.

Historical.

The first historical account of Fort Myers on record is when it was occupied by United States troops on November 4, 1841. It was abandoned March 21, 1842 and until 1850 there was nothing known of the place and it was apparently forgotten. On February 14th, 1850, Major Ridgely was ordered to the mouth of the Caloosahatchee, to select the most eligible point on its southern bank, establish a military post and name the place Fort Myers in honor of Col. Abraham C Myers, a distinguished veteran of the Mexican War and at that time the chief quartermaster of the War Department of Florida. Fort Myers was occupied by the militia for eight years, on account of disturbances by the Seminole Indians. In May, 1858, the troops were removed from Fort Myers and the name and a few stone relics are all that remain as mementoes of its former military importance. Fort Myers has grown from an army post, established in 1841, into a beautiful and thriving city.

Climate.

The rapid growth of the city and the surrounding territory is due, primarily, to its ideal climate. Because of it one sees in mid-winter a profusion of tropical growth similar to that in the West Indies. Many people labor under the impression that because of the extreme southern location of the city, the heat would be oppressive during the summer months, but this is an error. On account of its proximity to the Gulf—the cooling breezes that sweep across the peninsula from ocean to gulf, thereby mitigating, in a great measure, the disagreeable sequence of warm days and high humidity, and the showers which occur almost daily through the summer—the temperature in this semi-tropical region is wonderfully mild and delightful. The warmest weather occurs during July and August. The mean summer temperatures range from 80 to 82 degrees, continuing at about 80 degrees during September.

Health.

Malaria and many of the common diseases of the North are practically unknown in Fort Myers. The region is practically free from mosquitoes and other insects commonly imputed to Florida. People suffering from over work and nervous diseases are restored to health by living out in the open among the flowers, fruits and birds. Pure artesian water for drinking water can be obtained in any quantity.

Tropical Verdure.

It is not until one crosses the broad Caloosahatchee river and enters Fort Myers that the stranger finds himself within the real tropics of Florida, where all manner of plants and flowering shrubs of a tender nature are found growing in riotous profusion, in the open without any protection whatever. There are more than fifty varieties of palms grown at Fort Myers, including the rare Traveler, Date, Fishtail, Corkscrew, Fan Palm, India Sugar Palm, Royal Palm, etc. Many residences in the city are surrounded with grounds that are rare botanical gardens, rich in tropical color and fragrant with the perfume of many flowers. The golden Alamanda, red and purple Bouganinvillea, Royal Poincianna, red and pink Hibiscus and a multitude of other flowers blossom in wonderful profusion.

Hotels.

Fort Myers is well supplied with a number of elegantly equipped hotels designed to afford comfort for tourists and others who visit the city.

Social Conditions

The social life of Fort Myers is highly developed and the moral tone of the city is high. The true spirit of southern hospitality reigns supreme and newcomers may rest assured of receiving a most cordial welcome.

Churches.

The leading religious denominations have churches in the city. Plans have been laid for the erection of a new and magnificient church to cost $75,000, thoroughly modern in design and worked out on institutional lines.

Schools.

Fort Myers has an excellent school system, being recognized as one of the best in the State. At the present time there are three schools, a grammar school known as the Andrew D. Gwynne Institute; an accredited High School known as the Gwynne High School and the Bungalow School for the use of primary grades. These schools have thoroughly modern equipment. A new High School building is planned to cost $100,000.

Recreation

Opportunity for recreation invites the stranger to riding, motoring, tennis, golf, boating, bathing, hunting, fishing, trap-shooting, roaming through the primeval forests, associating with congenial people under sunny skies and revelling in tropical gardens of entrancing beauty.

Yachting.

For yachts and launches there is probably no other city or town in Florida whose waters offer more delightful opportunities along its tropical bays and rivers. The route up the Caloosahatchee river from the Gulf of Mexico to Fort Myers and eastward is one of the most beautiful trips in Florida, and the tourist, coming south for the purpose of enjoying its beauties should include the Caloosahatchee river in his itinerary, as it presents one of the grandest tropical trips in the State.

Caloosahatchee River.

The Caloosahatchee (Carlos-a-hat-chee) river was named after Carlos V. of Spain. It has the distinction of being the most beautiful river in Florida and it is also the deepest stream in Florida. The river has its headwaters in the Everglades section of Lake Okeechobee, and it is the only outlet for that immense body of water to the Gulf of Mexico. It flows 73 miles in a southwesterly direction, emptying into San Carlos Bay near Punta Rassa. From Punta Rassa to Fort Myers the river has an average width of one and one-half miles. A few miles east of Fort Myers it suddenly contracts to a narrow stream, not over a quarter of a mile wide, and its width gradually narrows until long before Fort Thompson is reached, the width from bank to bank is scarcely more than 150 feet and indeed in places less than this. Sea-going vessels are operated to Fort Myers and light draft boats operate to Lake Okeechobee via Caloosahatchee river and State canals.

Lee County

Lee County is the largest county in the State. Its 186 miles of Gulf coast line is indented by many bays and streams and possesses innumerable islands in the Gulf. In the southern portion of the county these islands are so numerous off the coast line (and that of Monroe county to south), that the territory bears the name "Ten Thousand Islands." The seacoast of Lee county is more extensive than that of any county bordering on the Gulf. Along this great sea coast are many beaches equal to those of the Atlantic sea shore. The county contains 2,579,840 acres, being larger than Rhode Island, Delaware and the District of Columbia combined, or is about equal in size to the island of Porto Rico. Lee County's assessed valuation is $8,052,404; it has a population of 9,540 and an interesting feature is that 267 Seminole Indians are among its inhabitants. The resources of the county are comparatively undeveloped and the opportunities offered for the investment of capital in all lines of endeavor is one of its strong features. The county contains some of the richest land to be found anywhere and a great deal of it is as yet unsurveyed. There is no county in Florida and certainly none in any other State in the Union that offers as tempting attractions to the prospector or can compare with it in luxuriant vegetation, natural beauty and fertility of the soil. Lee County has the distinction of being one of the most healthful counties in Florida. The official death rate is one-third of one per cent annually.

Industries—Fruit, Vegetable and Cattle Raising

The soil of Lee County is most varied, ranging from poor, white sand along the sea shore with no humus content, to the rich muck lands of the Everglades, recognized as equal to any in the world in fertility. The soil is adapted to the growth of all agricultural products indigenous to the State, and many varieties of tropical fruits whose growth is confined solely to South Florida, have been successfully introduced here and are being raised extensively. Citrus culture and vegetable production are the two big items that have done so much to place Lee county in the limelight of prosperity. The quality of Lee County fruit is recognized everywhere as being superior to that of any other county or state and brings the highest prices. The county is always awarded first prize at the Fairs for grape fruit. Truck farming is a very profitable industry because of the high prices offered by northern markets for mid-winter vegetables and for the reason that truck can be grown on the same ground where citrus fruits are developing. The main truck crops grown here are peppers, eggplant, tomatoes and cucumbers. Staple farm crops are sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, corn, rice, peanuts, beans and oats. Lee county is especially adapted to the growing of sugar cane as it possesses all the natural conditions and advantages. The raising and shipping of cattle is one of the greatest commercial interests of the county, large cattle ranches being located in the county. The advantages that the county has to offer for the rasing of live stock are: mild climate, long grazing season, vast acres of cheap lands, plenty of rainfall, numerous springs, streams and lakes and soil adapted to the growing of forage crops especially such legunes as corn, pea, velvet bean, soy bean, peanut, beggarweed and grasses.

Marine Wealth.

The waters are teeming with fine food fish. Numerous fish houses are located along the coast at which the fish are collected and shipped to northern markets. The waters are stocked with various kinds of marine animal life that are not only important as food values, but are utilized to appease the more complex needs of mankind. The Ocean Leather Company with a factory on Captina island utilizes the skins of sharks, porpoises and other species of the whale family in preparing leather, oil and fertilizer for the market.

Facts and Figures Concerning Fort Myers.

The city has paved streets; cement sidewalks; a public park; storm and sanitary sewers; a fire department; municipal water works; artesian water supply; two commercial piers; a municipal pleasure pier; an electric light plant; third largest ice plant in the State; three citrus fruit packing houses; six churches; three schools; three banks; Robert E Lee Memorial Hospital; public library; two moving picture theatres; daily and bi-weekly newspapers; telegraph office; many civic and fraternal organizations; a Community Council; an Eighteen-hole golf course; a club house; hotels and apartments; auto bus line; fifteen mile boulevard to the Gulf; $100,000 Court House; free band concerts twice daily; daily boat service; four drug stores; 5 garages, four cigar factories.

POPULATION

The Federal Census of 1920 credited Fort Myers with a population of 3,678, and increase of 1215 over the census of 1910. In both cases the enumeration was confined strictly to the city limits.

The convass for information contained in the directory was not confined to the city limits, but was extended to include the names of all living beyond the limits in adjacent territory whose interests are identical with Fort Myers.

The total number of names of individuals in the directory is 2480. Using the multiple of 2½, which experience has shown in other cities, is a reasonable multiple to allow for the names of women and children not included, we have an estimated population of 6200 for the territory covered by the Directory canvass.

The Fort Myers Chamber of Commerce.

In every city some organization must centralize the general activity of the city in commercial and industrial lines and in civic betterment. The Chamber of Commerce is the logical organization in Fort Myers. It is the instrumentality through which enterprising business men may cooperate to make a greater and better city. It concentrates the best business activities of the municipality and affords an agency through which all can work for civic uplift. There must be such an organization if true civic spirit is to be kept alive and intelligently directed. The Chamber has done well, is doing well and hopes to do even better. It has been a potent factor for the advancement of the city and its unity of purpose and plans still further insure the continued prosperity of Fort Myers.

Advertising Fort Myers.

The City Directory is the sole medium by which information regarding the municipality, its civic affairs, commercial, industrial, social and professional interests are spread broadcast over the country, as copies of this Directory are placed by the publishers in the Directory Libraries in all the larger cities of the country, where they are readily available for reference use by the public. There they serve as perpetual advertisements of Fort Myers for business and professional men, as well as citizens generally, throughout the country realize that the City Directory represents the community as it really is, local features and prominent attractions being clearly itemized.

LAUNDRIES

The Things to Look for in Your Laundry

Back in the time of "mangles" and "bleachers" you didn't expect much more from your laundry than a sort of rough and ready cleaning service. But now, when washday troubles bear upon you and you seek a laundry that will give your family bundle the considerate attention it should have, you want:

Inconspicuous Marking of Clothes; Washing Without Wear; Cleansing Without Rubbing; Special Treatment for Special Articles; Sousing and Rinsing in Suds and Soft Water; Drying Without Flapping; Ironing Without Scorching; No "Rents" or Missing Buttons; Sweet Cleanliness; Immaculate Finish; Definite Delivery; Courtesy and Moderate Prices.

These are the ideals upon which we have developed our FAMILY LAUNDRY SERVICE.

If washday worries vex your spirit, bundle your troubles in a laundry bag and send them to us.

Secretary's Office, 125-135 Church St., New York City

The Association of North American Directory Publishers is composed of reputable City Directory Publishers, organized for the general advancement of the Directory business. Any person, corporation or firm engaged in business as owner and publisher of a City Directory in the United States or Canada, who shall qualify as competent to gather information and compile a City Directory and furnish satisfactory references, is eligible to membership.

The objects of the Association are:

First. The advancement of the Directory business and the improvement of Directories by the interchange of ideas and the exchange of experienced employes.

Second. To provide protection to the public against fraudulent advertising schemes which operate under the name of Directories, and to drive unprincipled promoters of the same out of business.

Third. To provide permanent and profitable employment to competent, industrious and honest Directory canvassers and compilers.

Fourth. For the mutual protection and advancement of the established and prospective interests of all who may become members, by personal advice and assistance of members as may be mutually satisfactory, desirable or advisable, and by such other means as may, from time to time, be shown to be wise, proper and lawful.

$100.00 REWARD will be paid by the Association for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons engaged in publishing, collecting or canvassing for any fraudulent or "fake" Directory.

Street and Avenue Guide

AND

Directory of Householders

OF THE CITY OF FORT MYERS FLORIDA

1921-1922

In the following list the streets are arranged in alphabetical order. On streets where the buildings are numbered they are arranged in numerical order, and opposite the number is placed the name of the occupant householder. Dash (—) before name denotes the house is not numbered. To find the occupation of householders refer to the Alphabetical List of Names.

An asterisk (*) after a name denotes colored.

The Association of North American Directory Publishers is composed of reputable City Directory Publishers, organized for the general advancement of the Directory business. Any person, corporation or firm engaged in business as owner and publisher of a City Directory in the United States or Canada, who shall qualify as competent to gather information and compile a City Directory and furnish satisfactory references, is eligible to membership.

The objects of the Association are:

First. The advancement of the Directory business and the improvement of Directories by the interchange of ideas and the exchange of experienced employes.

Second. To provide protection to the public against fraudulent advertising schemes which operate under the name of Directories, and to drive unprincipled promoters of the same out of business.

Third. To provide permanent and profitable employment to competent, industrious and honest Directory canvassers and compilers.

Fourth. For the mutual protection and advancement of the established and prospective interests of all who may become members, by personal advice and assistance of members as may be mutually satisfactory, desirable or advisable, and by such other means as may, from time to time, be shown to be wise, proper and lawful.

$100.00 REWARD will be paid by the Association for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons engaged in publishing, collecting or canvassing for any fraudulent or "fake" Directory.

The Association of North American Directory Publishers is composed of reputable City Directory Publishers, organized for the general advancement of the Directory business. Any person, corporation or firm engaged in business as owner and publisher of a City Directory in the United States or Canada, who shall qualify as competent to gather information and compile a City Directory and furnish satisfactory references, is eligible to membership.

The objects of the Association are:

First. The advancement of the Directory business and the improvement of Directories by the interchange of ideas and the exchange of experienced employes.

Second. To provide protection to the public against fraudulent advertising schemes which operate under the name of Directories, and to drive unprincipled promoters of the same out of business.

Third. To provide permanent and profitable employment to competent, industrious and honest Directory canvassers and compilers.

Fourth. For the mutual protection and advancement of the established and prospective interests of all who may become members, by personal advice and assistance of members as may be mutually satisfactory, desirable or advisable, and by such other means as may, from time to time, be shown to be wise, proper and lawful.

$100.00 REWARD will be paid by the Association for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons engaged in publishing, collecting or canvassing for any fraudulent or "fake" Directory.
